

Bond on club blitz

Marcelo Portilho (mat) and Marcelo Brunolli give a jujitsu exhibition

WHAT is one of the first things Bond Uni students do when they return after the semester break?

They organise their social life, is what.

Despite having to cram three years into two, and seeming to have one exam on top of another, there is always time — or at least incentive — for Bond students to involve themselves in the campus life.

A few of the more structured activities revolve around clubs with all interests catered for from beer appreciation to chess, from the Indian Cultural Society to the guitar club.

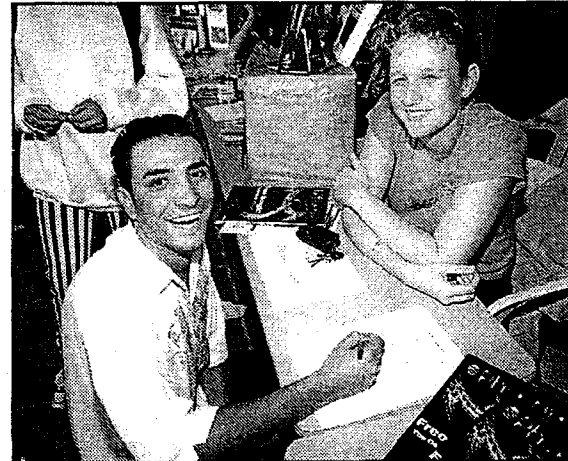

There is the debating club and the drama club, Christian Fellowship society, photography and psychology students association.

Then there are all the sporting clubs from dragon boating to skydiving, surfing to cricket.

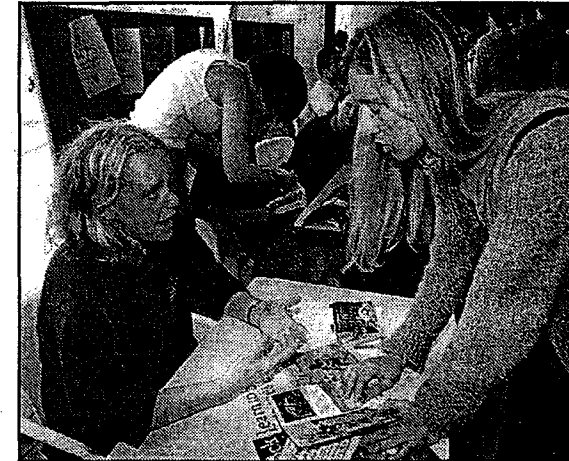

All clubs were represented at the recent sign-on.

Top: Yvonne Lo and Winfried Weiss kick in for the karate club

Far left: Fernando Duarte signs up with Georgina Dornan of the Latin club

Left: Rock climbing enthusiasts Ella Rohen and Caroline Vandekreeke